The novel virus must make the world rethink

■ Althuaf Kalikavu

While penetrating through bonds of counties and territories regardless of border security and advancement,

"Coronavirus" has been a word which shivered terribly the hearts of millions of people of different lands for weeks and weeks and is now a talking point for even in the table of dinner. As the world spends all efforts and time on keeping it away, we are forced to adjudicate some matters with the creator and nature. It is, by and large, generating a open mindset for all who live on the face of earth to rethink and change. Since coronavirus has claimed tens of thousands lives disregarding their richness and elegance and the scale of new cases are going so fast, there are a lot of things to boil down. Elegant lives, sophisticated technologies, access to luxurious commodities, updating stuffs daily, ultramodern health care facilities are now overtaken by only one single thing which is literally invisible of a naked eye.

The world had witnessed a lot of other virus deceases at various times. While the outbreak of Ebola, everyone put aside responding its only in Africa and the same was repeated at the time of HIV spreading but nobody has had any idea of Covid-19 outbreak which would utterly put them think together. Though many countries are effected, developed countries like US, which has the record of more than 2000 coronavirus death in a day, Italy, Spain and many more are rendering this situation more tensed. "I'm going to have to make a decision and I only hope to God that it's the right decision. But I would say without question, it's the biggest decision I've ever had to make," Trump told a press conference. Trump, who faces a tight reelection in November, is keen to get the US economy back open after weeks of tough measures that shut down businesses and transport across the country to slow down the virus' spread. Yes, we took the soul for nature for our financial gains and now it gave us a pause to absolute conduct and economic crisis. Many countries especially like US had to pay back for their exploitation of worldly things because of this pandemic which is the smallest lesson of nature and if we are keeping the same happening, the world will see biggest lessons of nature. The coronavirus is forcing us to reappraise our place alongside Nature. It is finite and it is being disemboweled. What is at stake when we are past this stage of the war upon us, will be the need to recognize that worse will meet us at decade's end if we do not change.

The virus is forcing us not to be complacent before what globalization has wrought. Years ago some gathered to witness Kirkpatrick Sale destroy a computer with a sledgehammer before the New School in NYC. Was he acting like a modern-day Luddite? It was our utter dependency on the machine that disturbed him. He foresaw what EM Forster's machine would become. All of globalization today is dependent on the machine. What the cell phone and computer do for the individual is paltry compared to how it supports the multinationals and makes everything they do possible. The frenetic emphasis on exports, the overweening rage for profits has to be mitigated, the imbalances corrected, or the lungs of the world will collapse. The balance sheet between humanity and Nature does not add up.

Those activists fighting to protect the larger creature called Earth are the true warriors of our time. Those who persist to suck the marrow not out of life but from Life will see its execution. The technocrats believe they have "harnessed Leviathan." But it is the same mistake Ahab made with Moby

Dick. America, young among countries, can rise to the occasion and master the contagion now flowing in its blood and soul. So far there is no vaccine to cure the willful disparity we have created between those who have and those who have not, between the human and non-human world. We are being taught the lesson of abject humility before something much dearer than the Machine. It is called Life. Our life, as a species, and the Earth's depends on it.

"We created the Machine, to do our will, but we cannot make it do our will now. It has robbed us of the sense of space and of the sense of touch, it has blurred every human relation and narrowed down love to a carnal act, it has paralyzed our bodies and our wills, and now it compels us to worship it. The Machine develops — but not on our lies. The Machine proceeds — but not to our goal. We only exist as the blood corpuscles that course through its arteries, and if it could work without us, it would let us die." -EM Forster-

COVID 19: Economic health decelerates

he rapid sprawling of corona virus is generating a limitless loss to the world. The Corona virus which emerged in China is now travelling Italy, South Korea and Iran with death invitations. It has also taken the lives in USA, France, Germany and Lebanon. In India, COVID 19 was initially reported in Kerala but by proper adoption of treatment and medical surveillance the spreading of the disease from the affected persons came from China was blocked. However, Corona cases flourished in different parts of India after that. Afterwards, when a family travelled to Kerala from Italy, the whole Kerala came under the eyes of suspicion. Similar cases were also reported in various other states like Karnataka, Maharashtra and Delhi.

Even though Corona is not much dangerous as Ebola, Nipah and Sars, the probability of infection is very much high as compared to these diseases. From these Nipah has come twice in Kerala, even the second arrival been too weak. Nipah has been eradicated by the sincere service of health department along with the cooperation of people in these two arrivals. Let's hope such an action from the side of government and people from the infectious Corona disease. There's no much systematic disease defense procedure in many other states of India. This may lead to rapid pervasion of the disease in India. Moreover, it will also exert adverse influence over the defense mechanisms of other states.

It is important to note that the adversities of Corona not only restricts in health issues but also effect socio-economic aspects of a country. Many economists claimed that the world is moving towards a global economic crisis even before a year. The retarded economic growth rate in countries like china, economic destruction in USA after the global crisis etc haven't replenished as been expected. In such a worst circumstance, it is certain that the entry of Corona will accelerate the crisis.

The fact is obvious when we have gone through the measures implemented by our government to prevent Corona. In order to prevent crowding of people, the government has banned public programs, religious rituals, festivals etc. In addition to these film theaters were closed, the crowding of people at shopping malls were restricted, educational institutions were closed and so on. This off course exerts a huge impact on our economy. For instance, this is the season of festivity of temples in Kerala. These festivals often generate a wealth from 5 lakhs to several crores. It has also affected several lives depending on these festivals to live adversely. These affect will be reflected to other aspects of economy. Hence it declines the economy.

Tourism sector of Kerala was in fear even in the initial report of Corona. When new cases were reported the tourism stagnated. This will create a loss of 45000 crores in a year. It will further lead to the closure of restaurants, tourist homes, estates etc. This not only affects the lives of individuals but also create an economic instability in an area. Moreover, March, April and May are the seasons of tourism. Therefore the loss due to the decline of tourism is incurable.

Some foreign countries have implemented restrictions over Indian travelers. Probably the exporting goods will be terminated soon. When Saudi Arabia restricted Umrah, the journey of thousands of Indian travelers was blocked. Travel agencies in order to cure this loss will reduce their daily expense. It further reduces the flow of money into the market and thus declines the economy.

The condition of Indian union will also become worse. As we all know our country is still moving through a huge economic crisis, the pervasion of Corona may block the availability of economic aid from banks and other financial institutions. Agricultural problems, industrial troubles, etc could not be renewed from the existing resources. Therefore an unpredictable loss could be expected which will declare India as a nation of poverty.

Gulf money plays a vital role in shaping Kerala Economy for decades. The travel restrictions adopted by gulf countries in response to Corona impose adversities over Indian workers. Remember, it was instantly after the worseness of saudization. Even unemployment is relatively a small loss; the pervasion of Corona may force these countries to adopt more serious measures without regarding the emigrants. The people from Kerala will be mostly haunted by this issue.

As we know, the Corona infection has begun from China. Chinese president Sign Ping claimed that now China has started gaining strength to prevent Corona. Anyway, China is the building hub of global market. The economic reduction in China will increase the demand of products in global market. For instance, due to expansion of Corona infection the availability of medicines and drugs decreased notably. This provoked Kerala States Drugs and pharmaceuticals to produce more medicines. However, one of the raw materials needed to be imported from China. Thus the production of medicine stagnated. Many countries including India depend on China for several products like electronic equipments, tools, toys etc. Therefore, there will be a huge decline in the marketing field due to the scarcity of raw materials. It obviously lead too many discommodos including economic crisis, unemployment, poverty, industrial instability and so on.

The decline in the price of petrol will lead gulf countries including Saudi Arabia to financial depression. Since the construction sector stagnated, the demand of petroleum products decreased. This pulls away the global countries from purchasing petrol. This condition will be cured only after the eradication of Corona.

Thus the microbe has startled the world in all aspects; physically, mentally, socially and economically. Globalization and capitalism had paved the way for the economic violence.

Environmental thesis of Islam

he Almighty GOD Allah has created every thing in this universe in a particular order. No one can find out any faults in Allah's creation. All the creatues from the tiny microbes to large living animals and all the materials from tiny particles of molecules to the largest galaxies are in due mesure both quantitatively and qualitatively. The whole universe is open to human to use for his benefits but not to misuse or trespass the natural rules.

But, recently the scientists have determined that a number of human activities are contributing to global warming by adding excessive amount of greenhouse gases to the atmosphere. Greenhouse gases like carbon dioxide accumulate in the atmosphere and trap heats which may gradually exit in to outer space. Sciensts tell that Deforestation is the very significant source of greenhouse gases because when the tres are fewer in number, there is less carbon dioxide conversion to the oxygen. Human use of fossil fuels is also the source of excess greenhouse gases.

Then, who has the responsibility of the environment? Is the God responsible for it? Or the environment itself is responsible? Or those who have the right to use all natural resources for their use are responsible? Definitely, according to Islamic concept, those who are living and use the nature are responsible for nature. Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) taught us: "Every one of you is guardian and will be asked about his subject" (Muslim)

Prophet Muhammad (s) was very strict that people should handle every thing on this earth with extra care. If man is much aware of his responsibilty of environment, he cannot disfigure and spoil the resources available in the nature. Failing to follow the Quranic injunctions, we have of course, betrayed the ecological balance. And it is up to us to set it right again. This will require great effort, and courageous individual change. We need to do our best to restore and preserve the balance in nature; to take up our responsibility as slaves of God and hence as custodians, stewards, and trustees in whose trust God has placed the resources we enjoy at its best. But the required personal changes are sometimes simple and manageable. We can easily reduce, reuse, and recycle waste. We can to a large extent conserve our use of water and other natural resources. We can in some small way reverse the process of deforestation by planting one tree at a time etc. Such efforts will make results as Allah mentions: "Man shall have nothing but what he strives for".

Islamic aspects of Cleanliness

Islam has given so much importance to Cleanliness. Prophet Muhammad (PBUH) said: "The key to the prayer is cleanliness." (Abu Dawud). Islam has always encouraged the believer to be in a state of cleanliness both physically and spiritually. As mentioned above, one of the most important aspects of prayers is that a person should be clean before performing them five times a day.

There are many instructions in connection with health, hygiene and about the cleanliness of air and environment in Islam. Some of them are listed below:

- *Wash your mouth and hands before and after a meal.
- *Keep food and water covered.
- *Offer Salah with clean body and clothes.
- *Use fragrance or perfume.
- *Comb your hair and use oil on the hair.
- *Take bath and perform ablution for offering prayers.
- *Go to bed early and rise early in the morning.
- *Go for a wal in the morning.
- *Keep your house and streets clean or we can say keep your environment clean.

*Keep your clothes and body clean.

*Do Miswak (brush) regularly.

Cleanliness is the pathway to health and strength. Islam wants a healthy and strong Muslim society which is capable of understanding and applying Allah's message and carrying it away to the whole world. The Holy Quran says: "You are the best community that has been raised up for mankind, enjoining what is right, forbidding what is wrong, and believing in Allah."

In short, Cleanliness is a part of faith or we can say it is half the faith. The islamic methodology of cleanliness really help us to prevent various diseases and viruses. Where the Preventions will be far better than

Life seemed to be very delighting for every one till February of this year. People were happy. Their usual day to day life went very smoothly. Football, cricket, basketball, everything went fine. Cinemas, serials and shows were people's craze. Morning became night removed by dawn. Nothing is wrong in life. Everything went very easily.

But from February things began to change. People went crazy, life became hard. Powerful nations like USA and all parts of Europe shut. People panicked. They didn't know what to do. It seemed like everything turned upside down. Each and every moment became crucial for everyone. Each and every one in this world lives with a fear inside them. Shops are shut down, holy places banned entries, and worshipping places are closed. Theaters stopped playing, beverages are sealed. Life became same for all the class of people. People are going under self quarantine. And there are some who live like they don't care at all. It is so ironical to watch the North Korean leader test his missiles and other weapons during this time. And there are people who saw great rise in their business and gained huge profit due to corona. And some like Mukesh Ambani lost huge amount of money.

Almost around 90% people have gained fear inside their minds. In most of the countries across the globe only two buildings are open: medical store and hospitals. People actually have no idea what to do. Many students feel that they are actually lucky to get long vacations but actually they aren't. People fear for a small headache or cough or fever they get. But moreover media play a great role in building fear among the people which is indeed very much necessary.

Superstars and big leaders are getting Corona. Even the British PM became prone to Corona. So just think about the life of the common. People all over the globe are very much affected by this pandemic. Even though there are many real stories happening around us, there many who play fake dramas to get out of their houses. One of the reasons given by a lawbreaker for going outside was that his cow has got flu.

Culprits in jail cough intentionally to make others think that they have some sort of Corona. And there are some who claims that cow urine can cure Corona and for that Indian breed is must. Washing hands became the habit of many. Kerala's break the chain campaign was discussed worldwide. News hours are playing for 24 hours and the only time that Corona doesn't appear in TV is when ad comes. This is the time in which watching news has become people's favorite way to push the tone. All the channels report the news as if they are playing some international challenge. In such ways is the news coverage nowadays. And of course that what make people get interest.

One of the foolish myths that people spread was the 10 seconds challenge. It said if you can hold your breath for 10 seconds then you do not have corona. This is an idiotic fact. Many people used to try this regularly in each hour of the day. People, not all, have a secondary sadistic mind. If authorities ask us not to go outside, then our sadist mind tells us what is going to happen if we go. But they must understand the consequences that could happen if they go out.

People of countries which banned the Niqab wore by the women are now covering their whole body. Not even an inch for the eyes. India boasts that their "Namaste" is being adopted over handshakes. Who ever thought this could shake the world?. Some believe that this is the revenge of nature. And some says this is some biological weapon used to destroy countries. Whatever it may be, people all over the world are affected.

People in ITALY sang song from the balcony of their houses like the songs sung by the brave crews of Titanic when death was in front of

As every coin has two sides. There are many positives (good) due to corona. Studies shows that environmental conditions of countries like China, Italy and also countries like India has improved a lot because of the lack of people and vehicles outside. Fishes and Dolphins have returned to the waters of Italy. People get more and more time to spend with their families (this isn't positive always as the divorce cases of China has increased since people are living together for so many days there now). politics at least for some has washed away for the time being. Feel of humanity has been created in people's mind. The talk about religion has stopped. Fight against caste has wiped off. At least for the time, people began to act like humans. It's a true fact that calamities come in society when humanity is destroyed so that once again it can be restored.

The best thing of this pandemic was that it was discovered quickly and the death percentage due to this is very low. People must not panic. But they must have a fear inside them. We must take care of ourselves and of others. Let us pray for the wellness of everyone around the globe and let us all try to stay as humans in the upcoming years.

Black Deaths on the face of planet

| Jaseel Pandikkad

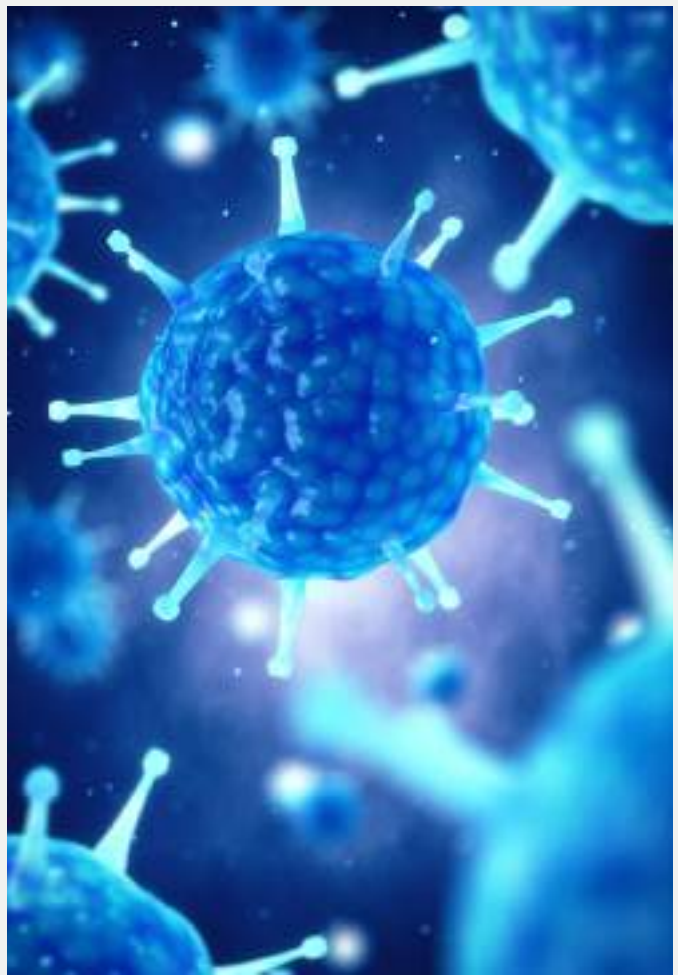

There are now more than 1.2 million confirmed cases of coronavirus in 183 countries and around 68,000 people have died. This is not an accurate result of this pandemic. In many countries there are unreported cases still clandestinely. The virus is spreading rapidly in many countries and the death toll is still climbing - but the majority of people are recovering from the infection. We know many of the countries are facing this very carefully. Therefore many of the positive results become normal. The outbreak was declared a global pandemic by the World Health Organization (WHO) on 11 March. This is when an infectious disease is passing easily from person to person in many parts of the world at the same time. The WHO said it took more than three months to reach the first 100,000 confirmed cases worldwide, but it took less than a week for the number to double from 500,000 to a million. China says it has now all but stopped the spread of the disease and the authorities have started to allow some access to Wuhan, the city in Hubei province where the outbreak began. South Korea, where a major outbreak began in February, has also seen its number of cases fall in the last couple of weeks. But badly affected countries like Italy, Spain and the US are still ramping up measures to try to slow down the spread of the virus. European countries have seen steep rises in infections and deaths. Italy has the highest toll of any single country in the world, with more than 15,800 deaths so far. The total number of confirmed COVID-19 cases in India stands at 4,067. The Union Health Ministry has said that 109 people have died due to the virus. This like huge number of the people surviving along the world.

The ascension of the viruses is chasms. Wet markets have become a familiar sight in many countries in Southeast Asia, particularly mainland China. Selling live fish, chickens and wildlife, as well as fresh fruit and vegetables, they get their name from the melting ice used to preserve goods, as well as to wash the floors clean of blood from butchered animals.

Wet markets can be "time bombs" for epidemics, says Prof Andrew Cunningham, deputy director of science at the Zoological Society of London (ZSL). "This sort of way that we treat... animals as if they're just our commodities for us to plunder - it comes back to bite us and it's no surprise. The message from the New York-based Wildlife Conservation Society is clear: ban live animal markets that trade in wildlife, stop illegal trafficking and poaching of wild animals.

"Not only will this help prevent the spread of disease, it will address one of the major drivers of species extinction," says the society. In the wake of the initial outbreak in Wuhan, China introduced a ban on all farming and consumption of live wildlife, which is expected to become law later this year. Thousands of wildlife farms raising animals such as porcupines, civets and turtles have been shut down. However, loopholes remain, such as the trade in wild animals for medicine, pets and scientific research.

The current coronavirus outbreak is the biggest challenge for the world since World War Two, UN Secretary General Antonio Guterres has warned. He said it could bring a recession "that probably has no parallel in the recent past". His warning comes amid dire predictions about the possible economic impact of measures imposed to fight the virus. The number of confirmed cases around the world is now nearing 860,000, with more than 42,000 deaths.

The death toll in the US is now more than 4,000 - higher than the declared number of fatalities in China, where the outbreak began late last year. Johns Hopkins University said 865 people had died in the past 24 hours in the US and in all more than 189,000 people in the country had been infected. Where it last is unpredictable. Also how many lives have fallen from the earth? is a mysterious questions in the front of the world.

These are not the first dark deaths on the earth. Many of the eras had faced these like because of the different causes. For instance, Black Death or the Bubonic Plague was one of the most devastating pandemic in the human history. It spread across Europe in 1347 and killed more than four million people. It was caused by the bacterium Yersinia Pestis that circulates among wild rodents, where they live in great numbers and density. The first outbreak of plague swept across England in 1348-49. It seems to have travelled across the South in Bubonic form during the summer months of 1348, before mutating into the even more frightening pneumonic form with the onset of winter. The plague killed between 30-40% of the entire population of England. Peasants fled their fields. Livestock were left to fend for themselves and crops left to rot. Black Death results in many social changes. Since population decreased, labours too become less. The remaining peasants and labourers, who had survived started demanding increase wages. Therefore, peasants benefitted through increased employment options and higher wages. Society become more mobile, as peasants moved accept work where they could command a good wage. In some cases, market towns disappeared, or suffered a decline despite the economic boom in rural areas. Whereas this pandemic around the world. How it will end?

There is still justice...

or men have been executed for the gang rape and murder of a 23 years old student on a New Delhi bus in 2012 case that shown a global spotlight on shocking rights of sexual assault in India. They were hanged in the Indian capital on Friday March 20 more than six years after being convicted of raping and killing the women known Nirbhaya. In the case of Nirbhaya, Court proceeded justice.

But the same time what happened Ranjan Gogoi. He has been accused of sexual harassment by a former Supreme Court employee. 35 years old woman has filed an affidavit alleging two instances of misconduct in October last year shortly after Mr Gogoi was appointed.

But the court acquitted them. The Supreme Court didn't acquit the chief justice of his conviction for raping subordinate women, but swore that he was a member of parliament who was obliged to do so. Any people say that they will not.

The chief justice was asked that, why he had hired the same women in the same Supreme Court after the chief justice dismissed them saying that it was a conspiracy to destroy the Supreme Court. Listed of answering any of the key questions, he got into his car and left.

Recall the same man, along with a Supreme Court judge, who had provided his legal ability to handle a large number of criminal cases.

Every time the executions hang up, it is a pragmatic thought that the real culprit will be hanged when it is executed by a system of police and court stepped in corruption. Injustice and nepotism rather than a philosophical disagreement over the death penalty. This is because the court has seen and heard the men who were acquitted by a court of law but who were acquitted by a court and the man who were acquitted by a court and sentenced to death by another court.

The brutal gang rape and murder of an eight years old girl in Indianadministered Kashmir has put the restive state on edge. Six men convicted in the rape and murder. But now no any reports about it. Those who have power, money they were acquitted. This is injustice. Court is the puppet of capitalist. So, if you hang four people, there is not justice in the country.

Virus:

An Invisible Creature

Athif Kalikav

Virus is an invisible organism enters to human body and also it is like hijackers. It penetrates into tissues and then takes over the machinery in your own cells to make more copies of itself. This tiny inflator works silently, producing thousands of these clones that fill up the cell and cause it to explode. The clones mercilessly continue the process of invading rake over and destroying existing cells. The result might be host or it could in a slow or rapid death. In other viruses can be defined as "non cellular, sub microscopic, obligatory, intracellular parasites composed of a proteinaceous covering around central nucleic acid (either DNA or RNA) and capable of self replication within the living host cells".

In an efficient foot of natural bioengineering, the host cells genetic machinery now does the rest of the work of viruses. Viruses exist in two states extra cellular and intra cellular. Since viruses consist of proteins and nucleic acids, they are actually nucleoproteins (nucleocapsid). The protein coat of the virus is called nucleocapsid, which is contact with and encloses to the nucleic acid.

A few distinguishing features of virus

- All viruses are obligate parasites.
- They multiply only within their living host cells
- They are ultramicroscopic and it can only be viewed with electron microscope(merely is the smallest virus 0.002mm in diameter.
- The viral genetic material, the nucleic acid maybe either DNA or RNA.
- Viruses are infectious and not the protein coat.

Quarantine; What Is The Role Of Social Media?

I Murshid Athippatta

In this period, the influence of social media is great. The quarantine time are eating by social media. Someone or most of the people are spending this time in such Medias. Listening music, gazing to Corona updates, e-learning, watching YouTube, gaming, etc are the ways to spend this lock down period.

As festival period is the harvesting time of textile sellers it is the time of online workers. Online workers means that some you tubers and such media artists. They utilizing this period maximum. They are telecasting their creations by understanding the taste of viewers. Humorous videos, informative videos such as about Corona etc... are their creativities. When most of them presenting useful informative things, someone trying to make fearful and misconnects in people.

The main problem is that unauthorized information about the pestilence is going on through social media. Hence many were deceived by such news. Really such news's creating scary condition in common people. But the contextual interaction of cyber cell and police made a great influence to reduce such bad activities. The last "April fool" day was quiet. There were no any fooling activities. It is great evidence that the human can stay away from such useless activities.

Another major problem at this period is the propagandas related with religions. Especially related with Islam, many misconcepts are wide spreading all over the world. Someone talking that it is the symbol of end of world, because many symbols were happened. But it is a discussion it is not the plat form for that discussion. While Muslims talking so another group especially rationalists mock Islam by saying some another examples and talking in a way that much crash Islamic foundation. But here we do not searching about the real fact. As Islamic concept, it is from most beneficial God, Turn to him. While rationalists thinking it is a common disease on daily life. Similar many concepts and misconcepts are going well in social media. Really this problem is according to any individuals self assessment. But this making fluctuation in someone's believed.

So everyone should understand that do not deceive from unauthorized arguments and informations. And should be bothered about cheaters around you. Utilize this quarantine period as self qualifying period to future life. Gain maximum for future as education, co-curricular activities and stay safe.

Covid-19 Paused It All

■ Khaja Hussain karinkallathani

ovid-19 it has been spreading all over the countries, Wuhan from China had become a devil city, if one enters the city he will be affected by this virus. The world is under the very dangerous situation by this disease.

This covid 19 reported in 179 nations. Almost 12000 people were died due to this virus, the wonderful thing is its spreading power, we were heard about this Corona virus and it's dangerous from others nations, but now this virus reached In front of us.

Today, India has reported that covid 19 have affected approximately for 139 persons. 5 persons died due to this virus. But the sadness thing is that China, Italy and Iran reported that deaths of thousands, Islamic institution were closed due to this virus, so stopped many recitation of Quran by Hafizs , and Islamic school was locked by this disease, so students had missed many classes and exams. The famous Islamic nations were banned Jumua for 4 weeks to ensure that health of individual personals.
